FAREWELL SERMON

OF REV. G. M. SHOTT, AS PASTOR

Church Pasked With People to Hear the Discourse—The Work of His Twe Years' Pasterate Summarized. Ray, G. M. Shott, paster of the First Baptist Offurch of this city for about twenty months past, has decided to sever his connection with the church here and seek a change with lighter labor, on account principally of his falling health. He announced his purpose some time ago, and last night preached his farewell ser-mon to a congregation which occupied not only all the seating room in the news, but all the chairs the aisles and other open spaces could conveniently accomodate, and yet many were obliged to stand.

and yet many were obliged to stand.

Mr. Shott took for his text Second Corinthians, thirteenth chapter and eleventh verse: "Finally, breatnen, farewell.
Be perfect, be of good comfort, be of one mind, live in peace; and the tood of love and peace shall be with you."

Prefatory to his formal remarks, he entered into a consideration of the condition of the church now in comparison with its condition when he entered upon its pastorate nearly two years ago. The changed aspect of the church edifice, inside and out, speaks for itself; the discharge of the debt which had hung over it for so long was referred to with much pleasure.

GROWTH OF THE CHURCH.

GROWTH OF THE CHURCH.

The church has received about seventy accessions, but has lost two by death, thirty-one by letters to other churches, and over fifty by expulsion, so that now there are enrolled about eighteen members less than when Mr. Shott entered upon the pastorate. But he congratulated himself and the church that of the reduced number about fifty more than two years ago attend services with some degree of regularity and are active in church work. Referring to those who had been expelled from fellowship, he said the worst enemies of the Church and of Christ were the baptized enemies.

About $1,800 has been raised in different ways by the Church, Sabbath School. Young People's Working Association and Woman's Christian Society. Of the conversions resulting in accessions to the church, thirty-five, or one-half, were from the Sunday School.

Mr. Shott urged the congregation to select a new pastor at as early a day as possible, and meanwhile to strive to keep up the church organization and church ties, to maintain the interest in the Sabbath School and the attendance at the prayer meetings. He said he was authorized to assure them that ministers would be sumplied for all their services, or nearbe supplied for all their services, or near-ly all, and such ministers as would profit the gatherings to which they ministered. LEAVE-TAKING.

Mr. Shott then took up his text clause by clause, and bade fare well to the church the Sabbath school, the Young Peo-ple's Working Association, the Woman's Missionary Society, the public and man's Missionary Society, the putous and press of the city, expressing his gratitude for financial, moral and sprittud support, and asking its continuance for his succes-sor. The lessons of the text were pressed home on his hearers in a feeling and im-be phisgmanically fetting matters take a natural course and there has been very a little excitement manifest. The situation of the Benwood mill is the most unsatisfactory, I should imagine, of any. It may be (I am not posteo) on inside arrangements that other mills pool to prevent any single concern from suffering actual loss during this trouble, arising from inability to fill up with a sufficient number of feeder nailers to enable them to run without loss. The resolution passed in Cincinnati and affirmed at all subsequent meetings of the association, was that each mill would run as soon asit could secure five feeders to take machines. It would seem that the ethics which obtain in business as well as in law would regulate this matter, and I suppose it has. The demand for nails is fairly active, but none of the factories are very seriously pushed; at all events the price is not stiffening much. I believe there is some preparation being mede for running extra time, but if it is done it is but a temporary expedient to sort up on some sizes. Blucher Lee, living near Clarksburg, committed suicide Friday night last by shooting himself through the head with a revolver. He was married, but seperated from his wife. dates to get their work in before the elec-tion. It is said by old residents that more interest is being manifested this year in the coming election than has been in pre-ceding ones for many years. The Third ward Republicans placed in nomination John Tyler and Thomas Mears for Council, and I. H. Wagener for Assessor. The election occurs one week from to-day, and from the number of tickets in the field it promises to be closely contested. If the Republicans fail to elect their Councilmen it will be on account of a split in the vote. There were nominating conventions is

CRYSTAL GLASS WORKS FIRE.

A Window Glass Factory Entirely Con-sumed Saturday Morning. The Crystal window glass works, a Bellaire, were entirely destroyed by fire between three and four o'clock Saturday morning. The fire was first seen in the fiattening room, and the watchman tried instening room, and the watchman tried to put it out, but the fiames rapidly spread over the frame building and were seen from the steel works almost as soon as the watchman gave the alarm. All the wood-work was open to the fire and already baked dry, and the flattening house, warehouse and office were almost immediately in flames. The fire companies answered the first alarm, but before they got there the nail works was drenched with water from its own hose.

The factory itself now caught and its whole height was a mass of flame. There was very little wind, but the draft created with water from its own hose.

The factory itself now caught and its whole height was a mass of flame. There was very little wind, but the draft created yet fire carried burning shingles all over town and pieces were picked up several miles in the country.

The absence of wind enabled the fire companies to save the Union window glass works and the cars and other buildings along the Cleveland & Pittsburgh ralings. One car on the Crystal's switch, partly loaded with glass, was burned.

There were two horses burned in the stable. A few things were carried out of the office by men from the steel works, but little of value was saved. The safe escaped with comparatively little heat and much water was thrown about it.

The loss is estimated at about sixty or seventy thousand dollags. The buildings were insured for $20,000 and the stock for $1,000. A building made from the foundation for the new style of gas furnace, which to put it out, but the fismes rapidly spread

A building made from the foundation for the new style of gas furnace, which this factory had just succeeded in proving an excellent one, can be built for less than the insurance on the old building, which which was made for the old style furnace. The stock of glass packed was about 10,000 hoxes. The loss falls almost entirely on Bellaire men.
